

Celebrating BSAC's 40 years of achievement

2011 marks the 40th anniversary of the establishment of BSAC. The Society has moved from a small club of interested individuals, to a Society with international reach and influence, with its own world-renowned peer review journal, membership of over 700 and freehold headquarters in Birmingham with a dedicated staff.

Council wishes to express its thanks to all those who participated in our 2011 Spring Meeting to mark the occasion. Over 180 delegates, guests and friends joined us at the International Convention Centre in Birmingham, and it was a privilege to have no less than six past Presidents of BSAC and five past Editors of the Journal amongst our numbers.
